Dulles' Body Arrives At National Cathedral

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles' body was brought to lie in state today in a quiet vaulted chapel of imposing Washington National Cathedral.

Just at noon, the sky gray above, a hearse carrying the flag-draped casket arrived at the chapel entrance.

Six servicemen carried the casket through a chapel door above which are encribed the words "The Way of Peace."

Mourning members of Dulles' family followed the casket into flower-decked Bethlehem chapel for a private few moments.

In the chapel, where Dulles' body will lie on public view for 24 hours, are plaques commemorating other high personages who

Newspaper Strike Ends In Morning

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Globe-Democrat will resume publication next Monday after a three-month shutdown because of a strike, Publisher Richard H. Amberg announced today.

Signing of a contract with the striking American Newspaper Guild is scheduled for 7 a.m. (CDT) tomorrow and pickets will be removed at that time.

The publisher said the newspaper has either reached agreement or made arrangement for arbitration with 11 mechanical unions for termination of their contracts.

This was made necessary by sale of the Globe-Democrat building and printing equipment to the Post-Dispatch a week after the strike began Feb. 21. The afternoon Post-Dispatch will print the morning Globe-Democrat under contract but the two newspapers will remain otherwise independent of each other.

The Globe-Democrat will remain in its building temporarily but Amberg said he hopes to announce a decision on its new quarters within a week.

Under the new arrangement, the Globe-Democrat will publish a Sunday edition.

"It will be a Sunday edition that will go on the news stands from 9 a.m. Saturday until late Sunday," Amberg explained.

"He said sections containing late news will be inserted in the week-end editions periodically during the period the weekend paper is on sale."

Showers Dominate Weather Outlook

The forecast said thunderstorms may be locally severe in the west this afternoon.

Temperatures will be cooler. After dropping to near and in the 60s tonight, they are expected to range from the mid 70s tomorrow in the northwest to the 80s in the southeast.

Faubus Suffers Defeat

Vote on School Board Members Overrides Him

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus met a major defeat Monday in Little Rock's integration feud with the recall of three segregationists from the school board.

Faubus had put himself squarely behind the segregationists in the recall election which sprung from an uprising of a group of citizens over the firing of 44 teachers.

All three of them were defeated, including the board's president Ed I. McKinley who was ousted by a vote of 13,347 to 11,855.

At the same time the three moderates, who said they prefer some integration to no schools, won a vote of confidence by retaining their seats.

It is now up to the Pulaski County Board of Education to fill the vacancies. The board's five members, all political unknowns here, have kept their own counsel as to their plans.

Faubus twice went on television in the closing days of the bitter campaign to plead for retention of the segregationists. He called the controversy over firing of the teachers a smokescreen for integration.

The governor urged the ouster of the three moderate members. Their supporters had started the recall movement. The moderates walked out of a board meeting May 5 when the segregationists began their teacher purge.

Two days later a group of business and professional men organized a movement to stop the teacher purge. They pledged themselves to recall the three segregationists.

Today Robert W. Laster, Little Rock traffic judge and the worst-beaten of the segregationists said: "Well it looks like the people want integrated schools, doesn't it?"

The other two segregationists, McKinley and Ben Rowland, were silent. So was Faubus who was reported at the governor's mansion to be at Stuttgart, Ark.

Laster was recalled by a 14,082 to 11,148 vote and Rowland, by 13,691 to 11,528.

Everett Tucker Jr., leader of the moderates, retained his seat by a 13,323 to 12,094 vote. Ted Lamb had the hardest battle among the moderates but ran up a 12,973 to 12,502 favorable vote.

The third moderate, Russell Matson, kept his seat by a 12,963 to 12,326 edge.

PSC Hears Complaint On MKT

Sedalia, Columbia Clinton Businesses Say Service Bad

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Public Service Commission took under advisement Monday complaints by Clinton, Columbia and Sedalia businessmen that freight service by the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad was inadequate.

Raymond B. George of Dennison, Tex., who became superintendent of the M-K-T early this year, blamed poor service from July, 1958, to February, 1959, on a shortage of locomotive power.

He told the commission the Katy had 31 diesel engines undergoing complete overhaul on July 1 but said the number jumped to 70 by the first of this year. The Katy spent more than 10 million dollars rebuilding diesel locomotives in the last two years, he said.

George said only since February has the railroad begun to have adequate motive power available and the situation is better now than at any time since 1957.

Like most of the complaining businessmen, L. H. Holt, a Columbia concrete firm manager, admitted service on the Katy had improved in recent months. He said it was "awfully bad" until early 1959. He cited instances where it required from 12 to 15 days to move a freight car from St. Louis to Columbia.

Thomas J. Downey, PSC attorney, said the commission might consider an order requiring the Katy to provide switching service at each community at least once every 24 hours.

Formal complaints were filed with the commission last February.

Three Clinton businessmen, representing concrete, feed and grain and wholesale grocery firms, testified their main complaint was on the switching.

Ralph Nattinger, the mixed concrete producer, said his business frequently had to shut down temporarily because carloads of sand, aggregate or cement reached Clinton but the railroad failed to switch the car to the spur serving his firm.

Elevator Operator Bob Wagoner said he has to use Katy to ship grain to market and he would use the road for inbound shipments of feed if the service was good.

Spokesmen for a wholesale grocery, a bottled gas concern and a feed store in Sedalia testified later yesterday.

Kentucky Votes On Nominee For Governor Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kentuckians flocked to the polls in what may become record numbers today to choose gubernatorial and other party nominees—a choice which could affect the 1960 Democratic presidential convention.

Long lines of voters stood at the polls in many areas. Most were Democrats balloting for a gubernatorial nominee.

The Democrats will choose between Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield and former Appellate Court Judge Bert T. Combs for the state's top post.

Early morning rains slowed the vote in a few areas but only one county reported lighter than usual balloting. Heavy rains in some areas Wednesday night brought out farmers whose lands were too wet to work today.

Senate Sends Joint License Bill to Blair

Sets Up One Board To Approve Medical Doctors, Osteopaths

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri Senate passed and sent to the governor today a bill to set up a joint licensing and examining board for medical doctors and osteopaths.

The vote was 33-0 as the Senate re-passed the measure with a House amendment that will automatically give a license to Dr. Waldo Isom, veteran Knox County physician whose educational qualifications had prevented him from being licensed.

The new state examining board for the healing arts will include five medical doctors and two doctors of osteopathy and it will have broad powers to regulate the two professions. A similar bill failed to pass last session because it aroused the opposition of chiropractors but this time, with chiropractors omitted, there was little argument.

Passed and sent back to the House after a long wrangle was a bill to give the conservation commission control of 29 islands and about 200 sandbars in the Missouri and Mississippi rivers for development as hunting and fishing spots.

If the commission did not want an island for wildlife purposes, it could transfer the land to the state park board for other recreational development.

The Senate tacked on an amendment barring either the commission or the board from charging any fees for hunting and fishing on the islands.

For the second day some senators sought to put legislative hobbles on a state agency. This time all efforts to extend legislative controls to the state conservation commission were beaten.

Last night a battle over a constitutional guarantee of funds for the state park system kept the Senate in session until almost midnight.

At the finish a proposed constitutional amendment to extend the present arrangement another 20 years was still pending. It has been passed by the House but ran into heavy opposition in the Senate.

Two Witnesses Say Man Now Held Is One Involved In Holdup

John Joseph Marlow, Kansas City, being held in the Pettis County jail and charged with felonious assault, has been tentatively identified by two witnesses as the man who attempted to hold up the Twin Acres tavern on Highway 65 early Sunday morning.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin said today that Mrs. Verrel Martin and her 16-year-old daughter had identified Marlow as to clothing, his voice and manner of walk as the man who attempted the robbery and wounded Verrel Martin, tavern owner, in the process.

The witnesses told police the bandit wore a silk stocking mask. Marlow was found by the police hiding in a Fairgrounds cow barn Sunday morning after a hunt which began with the first report of the attempted robbery about 2 a.m.

The investigation is continuing, Hamlin said.

On Highway Bidding

To Rule on Legality Of Contracting Rule

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The attorney general has been asked to rule on legality of the highway department's controversial pre-qualification rule for contractors, according to the chairman of a special House investigating committee.

Rep. A. Baise Vanlandingham (D) of Boone County said he hoped to have the opinion in time for a report of his committee, possibly Thursday.

Vanlandingham said no further hearings are planned. However, Rep. R. J. King (R) of St. Louis County, who got the investigation started, said he wanted to call a St. Louis newspaper reporter to testify.

King said he wanted to call Edward H. Thornton, a legislative reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, today to recount details of an interview he had with Rex M. Whitton, chief engineer of the highway commission.

Vanlandingham pulled a surprise last night by asking King to testify under oath at a hearing. King termed the move an attempt to embarrass him but testified anyway, saying "I'm happy to be embarrassed."

King denied he had once asked the highway department to approve work done by the C. Rallo Construction Co., some of which later had to be replaced. This is the way he explained the situation.

Rallo, King's insurance client, is building the Shell Knob bridge in the Table Rock area. Last December some forms caught fire and the highway department insisted the concrete was damaged.

King said Western Adjustment Co. got in a dispute over whether the concrete actually was damaged. The St. Louis County representative said he called Whitton to get the fuss settled.

The insurance company finally paid $40,000 to have some concrete work done over, King said, after Whitton said it would either have to be redone or Rallo would have to post bond of $2 million for 10 years as to the concrete work.

Survivors include two sons, John Joseph McGrath, 1500 West Fifth; E. G. McGrath, St. Louis; one daughter, Mrs. John Kniest, 700 West Fifth; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with the pastor, the Rev. Francis Laudick, officiating. The rosary will be recited at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Pallbearers will be cousins, William Menefee, John Menefee, James Menefee, Anthony Menefee, Edward Hurley and Thomas Hurley.

Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery. The body is at McLaughlin's Funeral Chapel.

Means Death For Both Proposals

Subcommittee Urges More Study Of Roads in State

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A Senate subcommittee today recommended an intensive study of rural and city road needs after the legislature adjourns next Sunday.

The statement meant the group would not act on a House-passed two-cent gasoline tax increase.

One of the sponsors of the House bill, Rep. Luna Butler (D) of Gentry County, said the subcommittee's action "definitely killed the House bill and the Senate's one-cent increase."

The two houses of the legislature have been at loggerheads since the Senate approved a tax hike of one cent a gallon, all going to the highway department, and the House approved a two-cent increase split among cities, counties and the state. Neither house would take action on the other's version until its own bill had been approved in the other house.

The stalemate, with only five days of the session left, meant death for both proposals.

"There's no salvation," said Butler. "The subcommittee chairman (Sen. William B. Waters (D) of Liberty) definitely is against rural Missouri. His actions have shown that all the way through."

Waters denied that the Senate group was opposed to rural roads. He said the subcommittee felt it did not have enough information on the needs of county roads and city streets to act now and was not able to find out what effect the House bill would have in barring city gas taxes.

Last night the House Roads and Highways Committee, of which Butler is a member, refused again to act on the Senate gas tax boost. Its chairman, Rep. I. W. Henson (D) of Wayne County, said the members apparently felt no action should be taken until the House measure was considered by the Senate.

Gov. James T. Blair originally recommended a two-cent-a-gallon increase in the gas tax to finance an expanded 20-year program of state highway construction. All the receipts would continue to go to the highway department, as the constitution requires now.

Give the legislature the right to cut park funds by 25 per cent if the state's general revenue is needed to support the public schools or the old age assistance program.

Bar use of park funds or the time of park board employees from any campaign to propandize the constitutional extension.

Young Trees Can Be Hurt

13-Year Cicadas Are Making Themselves Felt This Week

By STIRLING KYD
Extension Entomologist

Undoubtedly, the most conspicuous insect over most of the state this week has been the periodical cicada. They are present in such large numbers that many people have become quite alarmed about the damage they might cause.

These insects are known to exist only in the eastern half of the United States. They differ from the common dog-days cicada which we have every year by being considerably smaller, and are darker in color. In addition, there is a great difference in life cycle. The dog-days cicada completes its cycle in about two years, while the periodical ones take from 13 to 17 years.

The dog-days cicada, which will appear in about a month or so, do very little damage. The periodical kind can cause severe injury to young trees—particularly fruit trees, oaks, hickories, and other hardwoods—by their egg laying. The females drill a series of holes in the small twigs and insert eggs in these holes. A lot of holes tend to girdle the twigs and cause them to die. This may cause severe pruning, and in some cases, may even kill small trees.

The adult cicadas cause no damage by their feeding. All injury results from the egg laying. Therefore, the only control measure needed is a residual spray to prevent egg laying.

The best material to use is a new insecticide called sevin. Use it at the rate of two pounds of 50 per cent sevin wettable powder in 100 gallons of water, or two tablespoons in a gallon of water in hand sprayers.

Trees should be sprayed about a week after large numbers of cicadas are noticed. The first ones to appear are the males, and about a week later, the females show up. Consequently, if you are going to protect your trees, the spray should go on immediately.

One spraying will remain effective for about ten days. If large numbers of cicadas are still present at the end of this period, additional applications will be in order. The adults usually live about 30 days.

Although there may be large numbers of the nymphal shells attached to flowers and ornamental shrubs, these plants usually are not injured. Occasionally some shrubs may be used to a limited extent as a place for egg laying, but adults are never hurt.

Many superstitions have been built up about these insects. One of the most common is the belief that if a small, black W is marked in the wings, war will occur before the next brood emerges. Although this W is apparent on the wings of those now emerging, it does not necessarily mean that the present Geneva talks are doomed. Rather the W is formed by the normal veination in the insect's wings.

Three Players Traded to A's By Yanks Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees today traded Pitchers Johnny Kucks, and Tom Sturdivant and Infielder Jerry Lumpe to Kansas City for Pitcher Ralph Terry and Infielder Hector Lopez.

The A's also will get a fourth man to be named before the start of next season.

A report was received at 9 a. m. Monday that someone broke the right wing glass of a 1958 Edsel, reached in and unlocked the door. An unsuccessful effort was made to wire the starter switch.

Murder Charge Filed Against Attorney In Death of Hired Hand

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—A first degree murder charge has been filed against W. A. Brookshire, Columbia lawyer and livestock farmer, in the shooting of a hired hand yesterday.

Ralph G. Collings, itinerant farm worker from St. Louis, was killed in the house at Brookshire's farm 10 miles south of Columbia on U. S. 63.

Brookshire said he shot the man in self-defense after Collings broke open the kitchen door and swung at him with a hammer.

Brookshire formerly was a Missouri state senator from Farmington before moving to Columbia about 10 years ago.

He said he tried to fire Collings several times after hiring him a month ago but the man refused to leave.

NEW YORK (AP) — Police received a telephone call Monday from an alarmed woman who reported a wild animal was loose in the Bronx.

A patrolman, dispatched to investigate, spotted a furry shape on the porch of a house.

He clapped a big bucket over the furry thing and weighted it down with rocks.

Then he summoned police reinforcements and an agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Democrats In Kentucky Pick Nominee

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—An expected record turnout of Kentucky Democrats today picks a gubernatorial nominee—a choice which will affect the 1960 Democratic presidential convention.

If bespectacled Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield wins—and then beats former Rep. John Robinson, the Republican candidate, in November—the presidential ambitions of Gov. A. B. Chandler will be boosted.

Chandler, who cannot succeed himself after a four-year term, supports Waterfield. A Waterfield victory would assure Chandler of the state's 30 votes at the Democratic national convention.

If youthful-looking Bert Combs wins, the prestige and prospects of Earle Clements will be helped. Clements, a former governor and former U.S. senator, is a close friend of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) also a possible presidential contender.

Chandler and Clements have been political rivals for more than a generation.

Advance predictions were that more than 600,000 of Kentucky's two million voters would cast ballots. A record 507,000 voted in the 1959 primaries.

Robison has only taken opposition in the GOP primary—Granville Thomas and Thurman Hamilton. Neither has won previous contests. Robison has the support of all major GOP groups in Kentucky.

Waterfield, from prosperous western Kentucky, has defended the Chandler administration as a paragon of progress.

Combs, from economically depressed eastern Kentucky, has charged the administration is ridden with scandal and guilty of broken promises.

The bitter campaign began 13 months ago—extremely long even for Kentucky. A conservative estimate is that two million dollars has been spent by both sides.

The Democratic race started with a third major candidate, Wilson Wyatt, former national housing administrator and former presidential campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson.

Then Clements, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, arranged a meeting at which Combs and Wyatt decided to combine forces, with Wyatt running for Lieutenant Governor on Combs' ticket.

Neither Combs nor Waterfield dealt much in state issues. Each criticized the other's capacity to hold office.

Waterfield charged Combs, a former judge on Kentucky's highest court, was merely a front man for Clements. Combs contended Waterfield was Chandler's puppet and was responsible for what he termed the failures of Chandler's administration.

The polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. local standard time.

Matter of FACT

Ivan (IV) the Terrible was the first grand duke of Russia to be given the title of Czar. He was crowned in 1547 at the age of 17. About 1560, the second and evil part of his reign began when his wife and eldest son died, a trusted friend deserted him and other unhappy events occurred. In general Ivan earned his title "The Terrible," although he favored the common people and was supported by them to the end.

It's People Who Count

Nearly every one knows about the new drugs that control pneumonia and tuberculosis and the Salk vaccine that prevents polio paralysis.

What most of us generally forget is that behind these medical triumphs are people. Without skilled people in the clinics, the hospitals and the research laboratories, the fight against disease could not go on.

Despite our recent advances in medical science, there is a growing shortage of these trained disease fighters. We need over 100,000 more nurses, physical and occupational therapists, medical social workers, doctors and experts all down the line from clinical practice to laboratory research.

To fill this gap in medical manpower, The National Foundation has announced the most impressive plan for health scholarships in our history.

The National Foundation, originally known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is the voluntary health organization that runs the March of Dimes, gave patient aid to some 325,000 polio victims, financed the Salk vaccine and educated 70 million Americans to use it as protection against polio paralysis. It is now expanding its scope to include, besides polio, America's No. 1 cripple—arthritis—and the nation's most unmet childhood problem—birth defects.

Over the next 10 years The National Foundation proposes to set aside $12 million in March of Dimes funds to help 505 students each year get college training in the health professions. Each scholarship will pay $500 a year for four years. The National Foundation's 3,100 chapters will select from each state five to 25 students a year, depending on population.

Through this scholarship plan, The National Foundation is putting the emphasis for winning the health battle back on people. And it's people who count.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Costa Rican Battles Communism

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin of Puerto Rico picked up the telephone in Washington the other day.

"Hello, how is your excellency?" said the voice on the other end. "My excellency is OK."

Dr. Jose Figueres Ferrar, ex-president of Costa Rica, was on the line, and from his tone of voice even one not knowing him could understand why he is called "Pepi." For the man who long governed the most democratic country in Central America has a personality that bounces and a charm that is contagious. He has been in Washington getting better acquainted with some of the North Americans whom he has both defended and criticized.

"We have a group that has been working together for democracy in the Caribbean," Figueres confided. "There is Munoz-Marin whom we call the poet. He's even a better poet than his father, but most people have forgotten his poetry since he became governor of Puerto Rico. Then there's President Betancourt of Venezuela whom we call the politician. Then there's me—the farmer."

This is the little group that has been fighting for democracy in the Caribbean for the last decade, and whose three leaders have now become the No. 1 enemies of communism in Latin America. President Betancourt of Venezuela, onetime member of the Communist Third Internationale, once lived in exile in New York and San Juan. He was so distrusted by Henry Holland, President Eisenhower's first assistant secretary for Latin-American affairs, that Holland phoned Gov. Munoz-Marin to ask that he require Betancourt to leave Puerto Rico on the eve of a Pan American conference.

Oil Companies Get Wise

Running for president of Venezuela last year, however, Betancourt was the No. 1 enemy of the communists and won.

"Venezuela is the most important test of communism in Latin America," "Pepi" Figueres told me. "If Betancourt succeeds it will be a great triumph for democracy. So far, American oil companies have been smart. They were opposed to Betancourt, but now they realize he can bring stability and are cooperating."

"My candidate for president of Latin America," continued the fiery ex-president of Costa Rica, "is your governor of Puerto Rico."

"Can Latin America ever unite into one federation?" I asked.

"The only thing that could unite them would be opposition to the United States and that would be sad. However, finding leaders in Latin America is not easy. It isn't easy to find good presidents."

Figueres was reluctant to talk about his recent visit to Cuba where he was invited to be the official guest of the Castro government but departed after a row with Castro.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: An Unglamorous Great. — "Grant's Tomb," that handsome memorial on New York's Riverside Drive, was financed by popular subscription and dedicated 62 years ago. It may surprise many people that this monument to the man who symbolizes the military victory of the Union and once filled the nation's highest office, is only now attaining the official status of a national shrine.

By act of Congress the Department of the Interior is authorized to accept the memorial. The transfer took place May 1, without public ceremony.

Ulysses S. Grant could be said to have won for the North by a dogged application of a basic rule of war — by wearing down the South with superiority of manpower and resources regardless of time and cost. His workmanlike generalship never gave out the brilliance of the Confederacy's Lee, and Jackson, and the two Johnsons.

Grant's presidency was tarnished, not by lack of integrity on his part, but by the actions of others in the administration (and in Congress) during a period in which public morality in government and business sank to its lowest level — and by his own political naivete.

Manifestly no slight to the general's memory has been intended in the absence of fanfare. But one cannot but reflect sadly that it is in keeping with a career as much touched by tragedy as by success.

The World Today

Ironic Twist to an Important Date

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
etaoin shrdlu cmfwyp vbqkqj

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wednesday, May 27, had been an important day on the calendar of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He never dreamed how truly important it would be in a more personal sense.

It was to have been the cold war's day of crisis and showdown with the Soviet Union over Berlin. But there is no crisis.

Instead, it will be the day of Dulles' funeral with his old-time antagonist and opposite number, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, flying the ocean to pay his last respects to him.

Last Nov. 27 Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave the Western Big Three — the United States, Britain and France — six months to get their troops out of West Berlin or face a showdown. That placed the six months' deadline at May 27.

It meant a new crisis, but only the latest of many, for Dulles who was still the busy, bustling and seemingly indestructible secretary of state. He had no reason then to suspect May 27 would be his own personal deadline.

On the contrary, he immediately began a long, diplomatic battle against the Soviet demand to "free" Berlin. He was firm against abandoning the West Berliners but he was not defiant. This time he thought it better not to be.

Rather he was conciliatory. He made tremendous efforts to line up the West for a stand against the Soviet pressure.

Eventually, he proposed that the West and the Soviet Union talk things over. Out of this proposal came the present talks in Geneva, between the Western foreign ministers and Gromyko, to find a peaceful solution to the Berlin dispute.

Dulles helped shape those talks and plan them. They began three weeks ago. They have accomplished absolutely nothing except to get over the May 27 deadline without crisis.

They may go on for weeks. In the end there may be crisis. But it was only after the West had proposed these Geneva talks that Khrushchev backtracked a bit and said he really didn't mean, back in November, to make May 27 a deadline.

But today the foreign ministers suspended their talks for two days so all of them — including Gromyko — can fly here for Dulles' funeral. So even in death Dulles is having some effect on relations with the Soviet Union.

If Gromyko had stayed in Geneva, while the Western ministers flew here as a final tribute to Dulles, the U.S.S.R. in the world's eyes would have looked guilty of sullen bad taste.

This will give an idea of Dulles' efforts to avoid the May 27 crisis after Khrushchev's demand and warning on Nov. 27.

On Nov. 30 he flew to Augusta, Ga., to talk with President Eisenhower about it. On Dec. 4 he was in San Francisco making a foreign policy speech. He came back here the next day and went into Walter Reed Army Hospital to get a checkup on an intestinal inflammation. There was always the possibility he was having a recurrence of the intestinal cancer for which he had undergone surgery two years earlier.

On Dec. 12 he got up out of his hospital bed, visited Eisenhower at the White House and that same day took a plane to Paris for talks with the Western foreign ministers.

Then to Jamaica for a two weeks' vacation. He got a virus infection there, recovered, came back to work. On Feb. 3 he flew to Europe again for conferences with the Western leaders in London, Paris and Bonn.

In Paris, ironically, he took a few minutes out for vaccination against smallpox. That might indicate he thought he had a long time left. But time had run out on him.

In a few days he was back in Washington, back in the hospital, and back under surgery which whined him again suffering from cancer. That was almost the end. But not quite. While he had strength left he had a hand in preparing for Geneva.

Think First Before You Split Up Joint Securities

By FAYE HENLE

"What steps must be taken," writes a reader, "so that the securities that my husband and I own jointly might be split up? We each want to own half."

The mechanics of separating such jointly owned property are simple. You can either perform this transaction yourselves or ask your stockbroker to handle it for you. In either case this is what happens.

Get out your stock certificates. Printed on each is the name and address of what is called the transfer agent. A transfer agent is usually a bank retained by a company to help with its stock records.

You both sign the stock certificate on the back in exactly the manner that your names are printed on the face of the certificate. Or you can ask your broker for a piece of paper called a stock power and sign that. In either case, a bank or broker will have to guarantee your signature.

Send the certificates either signed or with the stock power in the transfer agent together with a letter signed by you both instructing him how you would like new certificates made out. Upon payment of a small sum called a transfer tax you'll each own your share of the certificates within a matter of days.

Simple enough? Yes. But what appears simple can be complicated.

You have repeatedly been warned against owning such property jointly on several scores. These include:

If the amount of property jointly owned is substantial and both a man and wife contributed to the purchase of such property, unless it can be proven to what exact amounts each contributed, the total becomes taxable in the estate of the first to die.

Jointly owned property cannot be disposed of under a will by either party. The law rules that it becomes the property of the survivor.

When you own something with someone you can't be as flexible about shifting that property as if you owned it alone. For instance, a husband might wish to sell the stock, reinvest the proceeds in another security or in his business. A wife might not give her consent.

At this juncture I'd like to issue a warning against splitting up jointly owned securities. Think twice before you take any action. Here's why:

If the securities owned jointly amount to less than $120,000, and this is all the property owned by you both, they will not be subject to a federal inheritance tax.

Hence, avoidance of the federal estate tax is no reason for splitting them up and the mere suggestion of doing such a thing, especially later in life, might undermine the confidence of one partner in another.

Also, if the sum of money in these securities is substantial, dividing them may mean payment of federal gift taxes unless they are split up among varying persons or unless the split-up is spread over a period of years.

The federal gift tax law permits a husband to make a once-in-a-lifetime $30,000 gift to his wife, or vice versa. The law also permits gifts tax-free up to $3,000 in any one year.

While it is usually advisable not to own any securities jointly, if you are contemplating any type of a split-up, I strongly urge that you consult with a lawyer well versed in these matters.

Lincoln The Symbol

Democratic Experiment Of India Vital To Free World

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Lincoln is the "symbol of the idealism of America" to the people of India.

"But when your foreign policies deviate from Lincoln's then we fail to understand why," so said the new Ambassador from India, M. C. Chagla, in an exclusive interview. In India he was Chief Justice of the Bombay high court.

That the reverence for Lincoln is held by others not of such exalted importance was revealed recently by a visiting editor from Madras, who told me "the only thing I have bought in the United States is a little bronze statue of Lincoln from a souvenir stand in the railroad station." Every Indian schoolboy knows the Lincoln story, he said.

The Ambassador, who has represented his country in the United Nations, recognizes that to understand the American people he "must see something besides New York City." So he has pledged himself "to go to every state" although probably he didn't think that would now include Alaska and Hawaii. Already he has been in 10 states to address audiences, including students, businessmen, and those directly interested in foreign affairs.

While traveling, the Ambassador had an opportunity to take a look at our American newspapers and to meet some reporters who have covered his talks.

His reaction to the content of our newspapers, with certain exceptions, is "that there is more attention paid to local news and very little to foreign news. . . there is more American national and international news in The Times of India than in the Cleveland papers I read."

He just can't get accustomed to American reporters not taking his speech down in shorthand and he's discovered, to his sorrow, that if he doesn't have advance copies of his talks to hand the press he may not be reported at all in the newspapers. And he would "sometimes like to adlib."

Everywhere he goes he finds a great warm response to his country and her problems. More and more he is finding Americans who realize that the success of the Democratic experiment in India is important to the entire Free World, and that Americans are willing to help.

Feathers of yellow canaries will turn red if the birds are fed paprika.

The biggest worry about guided missiles is they are apt to get in the hands of misguided people.

Uses Unique Method To Get Appointment

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There's no one with endurance like the man who sells insurance, according to an old ditty, and Don Finengame proves the point.

The young salesman had been trying for some time to make an appointment with advertising executive Charles L. Andes. No luck. The other day Finengame had a uniformed messenger deliver a cage containing a pigeon to Andes' office.

On the outside of the cage was a letter outlining Finengame's sales pitch.

The letter ended: "If you are interested in discussing our insurance programs further, just throw our representative out the window."

Andes did, the pigeon flew home and Finengame got the appointment.

Dr. Hans F. Schweigmann, who in 1953 opened a new German consulate in Kansas City for the states of Missouri, Kansas, Wyoming and Colorado, was the speaker at Rotary Club Monday noon, at Bothwell Hotel. He spoke on post-war problems of Germany arising from his division of the country.

Dr. Schweigmann was born in Alsace-Lorraine, Nov. 8, 1897. After participating in World War I, he studied economics at the Universities of Munich, Hamburg and Berlin. In 1925-26 he was an exchange student at Yale University. Later he took his Ph. D. degree at the University of Berlin and was temporarily employed as assistant to the U. S. He was an Army officer in World War I, and was, after that, connected with the German Food Administration. In the summer of 1950 he joined the German Foreign Service and was appointed commercial counselor of the newly established German Consulate General in New York. He was later transferred as head of the commercial department to the German Consulate in San Francisco, coming to Kansas City from there.

Dr. Schweigmann was introduced by Ray Lippard.

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. D. Warren Neal, vice-president, in the absence of the president.

Invocation was by Paul Hunsell. George Lockett led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Visitors were Gene Cook, guest of Jess Brown; Jess Bender, Lee's Summit, with George Routsong; Charles Wendt with Henry Harris; Dave Eisenstein, guest of Don Lamm, Jr., and Rotarian Earl S. Cook, Trenton.

Baby Rotarians presented by D. Warren Neal, acting president, were Charles Wendt and Gene Cook.

Sixty Cars Entered In Memorial Races

Don Cooper, veteran modified stock car pilot who is a native Sedalian, will be included in the 60-car field at the Missouri State Fairgrounds on Memorial Day for the running of the annual Midwest Modified Motorama.

Cooper will be competing with the top modified stock car drivers from Central Missouri, Kansas City, St. Louis, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma for the $1,500 guaranteed purse in 100 laps of racing. Opening heats will get underway at 2:30 p. m. in front of the 14,000 seat State Fair grandstand.

Don, now 29 years old, has been driving modified stocks for five seasons. He started in the game back in 1951 on the old figure eight tracks at Syracuse and Versailles, but went into the Air Force before he had a chance to really get the feel of the track.

Three seasons ago he went into the modified competition. In 1957, when he finished eighth among the point leaders, he was named the most improved driver in the Central Missouri Racing Association. Last season he was a top contender in the fast competition and again finished among the top ten drivers.

Don got off to a slow start this season. First, his car bogged down with mechanical difficulty. Then, a week-ago Sunday at the Sportsman's Speedway in Marshall, he took a spectacular flip in the north turn and damaged his car extensively. Now he's in the process of rebuilding and hopes to have his modified in action on Memorial Day.

Saturday night when he won the "B" feature at Sedalia's Thunderbowl Speedway, Cooper proved that the primary cause of his misfortune this season has been the car and not the driving. Without his own vehicle, he decided to enter the modified competition in a straight stock claimer — powered by a 1948 flathead Ford engine. His car certainly wasn't the fastest on the track, but his driving was the best. After trailing during the first half of the 20 lap race, he took the lead in the 11th lap and held it the rest of the way. The difference came in the turns — where Cooper was the master.

Don's new car — as his former cars — will be powered by a Chevrolet Corvette engine. Probably his finest racing accomplishment came in 1957 when he won the first heat at the state championships at the Missouri State Fair. He finished eighth in the title race that year.

As most CMRA pilots, Cooper has been involved in his share of breath-taking accidents on the track — without suffering serious injury. He says an accident in 1957 when he catapulted over Torch Aleshire, rolled twice and came to rest on his wheels — still in running order — was the most spectacular smash-up in which he has been involved.

Don is the son of Emmett Cooper, also of Sedalia. He works as an electric motor repairman for his dad at Cole-Cooper Electric Company.

He'll be one of more than 50 outstanding drivers in action at the Midwest Modified Motorama.

Major Shakeup Seen In Boston Team
BOSTON (AP)—A major shake-up, involving five front-line players, is being considered by the skidding Boston Red Sox.

Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris said Monday he has discussed a five-for-five player trade with another team and "I have an idea it might open up."

Harris declined to name the players or the other team involved, but he did comment: "We've got to go to front-line players. Nobody wants to talk second — stringers and second-stringers aren't going to do anybody any good."

The Sox are now within a half-game of the American League cellar.

Boxing May Profit From Court Decision

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A top boxing official predicted boxing will profit from the U.S. Supreme Court's decision ruling unconstitutional Louisiana's law banning racially mixed sports events.

The decision generally met mixed reaction.

The law also required segregated seating for spectators and on the heels of the decision, six Negro fans attended Monday night's New Orleans - Mobile baseball game here. It marked the first time in the city's history that an integrated audience watched a Southern Assn. game.

The prediction on boxing came from Pete Herman, vice chairman of the Louisiana State Athletic Commission which supervises boxing in the state.

Athletic directors of the state's two leading universities, Tulane and Louisiana State, said they looked for no immediate change in scheduling policies as a result of the decision.

Tries to Beat Jinx

Johnny Podres Expected To Be Big Season Winner

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is this the year Johnny Podres finally gets the breaks and becomes a big winner?

The stocky southpaw is remembered as the youngster who pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to their only world championship and as a one-time National League leader in shutouts and earned-run average. Yet he's been a tough luck guy more often than not.

He shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 with an eight-hitter in the seventh game of the 1955 World Series, and he led the NL with six shutouts and a 2.66 ERA in 1957 (after a hitch in the Navy).

Last year, however, was his first without serious injury and he hit his major league high with 13 victories. But he also dipped to his low in defeats with 15—five by one run, two by a pair of runs—as the Dodgers finished seventh in Los Angeles.

Now he's back trying to beat the tough-luck jinx again, and at the moment he's the ace of the Dodger staff with a 5-2 record after pitching the best game of his career Monday for a two-hit, 4-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants. It was his third straight success.

Podres had a no-hitter for 7 1-3 innings, then gave up consecutive singles by Daryl Spencer and Bob Schmidt. The Dodgers' third double play saved his shutout.

That pushed Los Angeles within .002 percentage points of idle third place Pittsburgh. Both are 3½ games behind first place Milwaukee, beaten 7-3 at Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs belted St. Louis 9-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Detroit defeated Kansas City 4-3 in the only American League game scheduled.

Podres, 26, got all the help he needed for his 14th shutout on a pair of two-run homers by Gil Hodges against losing lefty Mike McCormick. Dick Gray also homered as the Dodgers collected nine hits against the second place Giants.

Podres, regaining confidence in the change-up that made him the World Series hero in '55, faced only 29 batters, struck out seven and walked three. It was the third career shutout over the Giants by Podres, who has pitched seven three-hitters.

The Braves blew a 3-1 lead as the Phils, held to four hits for six innings, chased Bob Buhl (2-3) in a five-run seventh. Gene Freese's pinch two-run double triggered the Phils into the lead in the big frame as they took the weekend series 3-2. Don Cardwell won his first in three decisions getting Ray Sempach's mopup help over the last two frames. They blanked the Braves on three hits through the last five innings.

The Cubs, who had lost four straight, three to the Cards, scored two in the first, then put it away at St. Louis on Jim Marshall's three-run homer in the second off losing reliever Ernie Broglio (6-3). Bobby Thomson and Dale Long also homered for the Cubs. Rookie Bob Anderson (3-3), who had lost three straight, won it with Bill Henry's three-innings of one-hit relief.

Two Games Open Babe Ruth Play

McCown's Salvage tripped Anderson's Air Conditioning, 5-4, and Western Auto knocked off Brown's Auto Supply, 7-2, in the opening games of the Sedalia Babe Ruth League at Liberty Park Monday night.

McCown's got five hit pitching from Charles Robb in besting Anderson's. The losers jumped into a three run lead in the first two innings, but McCown's came back to knot the count in the bottom of the second and took the lead for keeps in the third.

Ronnie Miller of Anderson's was the hitting star of the game with three safeties in three times at bat. He had a triple, a double and a single.

Tim Morgan hurled five hit ball for the losers, but the four errors by his teammates kept him in hot water. Lonnie Schott touched Morgan for a triple and a single to lead McCown's.

Jerry Barr fired a sparkling one hitter in stopping Brown's. Jerry Ray broke-up his bid for a no-hitter with a single in the sixth.

Western Auto took a four run lead in the bottom of the second and was never threatened. Johnny Dunham had a double and a single and Mike Riley collected two singles to lead the Western Auto attack.

Eno Johnson pitched four hit ball for Brown's, but his mates

Chipped Bone Ends Fine Racing Career

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — A chipped bone has ended the fine racing career of Vertex, one of the nation's top handicap horses.

The big 5-year-old chipped the sesamoid bone of his left front ankle Saturday while winning his seventh straight stakes race — the Camden Handicap at Garden State Park.

Trainer Joe Piarulli announced the injury Monday and said the horse would be put to stud.

Vertex won 17 of his 25 starts and earned $454,274, including $265,000 this year.

were guilty of seven errors and his downfall.

The next Babe Ruth league games will be played Wednesday night at Liberty Park. Western Auto faces Anderson's and Advocies with Phillips 66 in the first game for the two teams.

Rhode Island became the first state to make a holiday of Decoration Day, now known as Memorial Day, in 1874.

Prince Gets Revenge

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip got his revenge Monday on two of the news photographers who follow him and Queen Elizabeth II about.

Touring the Chelsea flower show with his wife, Philip came to the "Garden of the Future." A demonstrator showed him how to water any part of it by pushing buttons on a control panel.

The prince looked across the lawn and spotted two press photographers firing with flashbulb and camera. Pressing a button, Philip fired back. A shoulder-high wall of water shot up to bathe the cameramen.

The crowd shrieked. The prince guffawed, then strode across the grass to inquire, "Did you get very wet?"

"It's nothing really, sir," the photographers replied, smiling dantly.

Whitt Wins Golf Tourney At Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — Don Whitt steadied under pressure Monday to win the $25,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament in a three-way sudden death playoff.

The victory brought him top money of $3,500 and snapped a four-year jinx. It was the first PGA tournament win for the Borrego Spring, Calif., pro since he joined the circuit in 1955.

South Africa's Gary Player, the 23-year-old flash from Johannesburg, wound up second. Al Balding of Markham, Ont., Canada was third.

Whitt, in trouble all the way and in danger of losing his lead, fired a clutch birdie on the 18th hole to wind up tied with Player and Balding with a 72-hole total of 272.

In the playoff, Balding was jostled out on the first hole. His second shot left him a 20-foot putt that he missed to go par 4. Whitt and Player were down in birdie 35.

On the second hole, Player's approach went into a sand trap. He blasted out but missed a 10-foot putt and went bogie 5. Whitt was on in 2, down in 2.

"I knew I had to make that birdie on 18," said Whitt, "when my approach popped up there about three feet from the pin. I got that lucky feeling. Boy, it's nice to win one."

Whitt came close to not winning one with a 34-37-71 over the 6,501-yard, 34-36-70 Colonial Country Club course. Player and Balding shot 3-under 67s to overtake him.

Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., boosted by a spectacular hole-in-one on the par 3 15th, finished with 272, tied with Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa. They drew $1,400 each.

The pace was too much for big Tom Veech, of Milwaukee, the 265-pound rookie pro who led the first two rounds with sub-par scores.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "You can't realize how much my life has changed. I used to be shy and afraid to talk to people. I'm so much happier now. A whole new world has opened up for me."

These words came from a man in love. If they sound somewhat Marty-like, it's only natural. The man is Ernest Borgnine. The love of his life is Mexican actress Katy Jurado.

"Katy and I will be married in September, just as soon as my divorce becomes final," he announced. "We'll have a civil ceremony here and a church wedding in Mexico." The latter is possible, he said, because her first marriage was to a divorced man and his was to a non-Catholic.

After the weddings, they'll make their home in Mexico and maintain an apartment in Hollywood for when they are making movies.

"We've got a lot in Cuernavaca and another in Acapulco, and we plan to build homes on both," he said. "I like living down there."

"The Mexican people have a way of life that is entirely different from ours. Here, we work like crazy, we fight the traffic on the freeway, we hurry home for that before-dinner Martini so we can calm our nerves."

"Life isn't that rushed in Mexico. The people there know how to relax and enjoy the pleasant things of living. I go down there tense and keyed up from working. Soon I learn to take it easy."

Whether Ernie will have time to enjoy the manana life is problematical. In the past few months, he has gone from making "The Rabbit Trap" in this country to "Summer of the 17th Doll" in Australia to "Man on a String" in Berlin.

TV Strike Puts Execs Behind Lens

By CHARLES MERCER
AP Radio-TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The recently settled strike of television technicians against NBC-TV found many a network executive handling cameras and audio with remarkably few bloopers.

True, there was the early morning five minute religious service on the network's New York station when solemn religious music was supposed to come on — and instead the audience heard the commercial for a product that unplugs stopped sinks.

But old hands reminisce about many more embarrassing moments in television's past history.

Whatever became of the weather announcer who forecast "shattered under scours?" Or the chap who announced that "portions of this film were on this program?" Or the fellow who said, "in 10 seconds NBC presents Pinky Lee?"

A good man always triumphs over a faulty prop or lingering camera, however.

Art Carney refused to be frustrated on a Jackie Gleason Show when the door to the Gleason apartment wouldn't open. With aplomb, he stepped through a glassless window.

And Jack Lescault has stopped blushing over the time on the "Today" show when he thought he was off camera at the end of a men's undershirt commercial. The home audience was tickled to observe him tickling the male torso dummy in the ribs with a "kitchy-kitchy-koo."

On the other hand, no one can remember the name of the actor in an early TV drama who forgot his lines while playing a scene in airplane in flight. He disappeared off camera, muttering, "I think I'll get off here."

Whatever happens, the show must go on. Remember those live commercials which showed the hands of two models whose faces you never saw? One night one of the models started to faint in the middle of a commercial. What you never saw was the fact that two prop men rushed to her and held her up until the commercial was finished.

That's television.

Life Attacked By Critics

Angry Wife Is Real Fear Of Scurrying Suburbanite

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Why is it so many people are attacking the suburbs these days?

I have the impression that every time a novelist, social critic, bearded lecturer, campus rebel or tweedy philosopher tries to explain what's wrong with America he finds that individualism is dying and conformity is in the saddle, and it's all the fault of the suburbs.

What a federal case they've made out against us! And all because we wanted a piece of lawn that didn't belong to a city park and a small view of the sky not hazy with smog.

The latest attack comes from Dr. I. I. Rabi, eminent Columbia University physicist. Scientists, he says, should be "odd balls" and "curious types." When a scientist goes suburban, Rabi says, he becomes a victim of a commuting schedule, has to leave the lab at a fixed time, rushes home to fix his leaky cesspool and that night his conversation concerns only cesspools.

Dr. Rabi misses a profound point. The suburbanite could, if he dared, get home later. But what makes him scurry home is fear—fear of his wife, whether she's an apartment wife or a house wife. He's afraid to miss dinner.

Dinner, as every male mouse knows, is based on a complicated mechanism and precise timing and painful planning, like a three-stage rocket or Bach fugue, and it won't keep, and if the children eat without father they will develop psychic trauma, and if they wait late to eat a soggy, semi-poisonous dinner with father they'll miss piano practice or do their home work poorly or miss the school dance, and how are we ever going to catch the Russians with a nation of underfed emotional misfits?

Dinner, not the suburb, is the villain, and men scamper home for it in the cities as well as the suburbs. Dinner is the emotional core of a woman's life. Missing it is the ultimate hurt.

I even suspect that many marriages wrecked by infidelity would still be intact if only the faithless one managed to get home in time for dinner.

But to the larger point. There is just as much conformity and mass thinking and colorless talk in the cities as in the suburbs.

A hi-fi bore is just as dull and

Traffic May Kill 260 Memorial Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents during the Memorial Day weekend may cause 260 deaths and 10,000 disabling injuries, the National Safety Council said today.

The council estimated more than 40 million automobiles will be on the streets and roads.

The holiday period covered by the calculations will begin at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, May 29 and will end at midnight Sunday, May 31.

If the toll reaches 260, it will be a new record by a wide margin for a two-day observance of the Memorial Day holiday. The record is 241, set in 1953.

During last year's three-day observance 371 motor vehicle fatalities were reported.

But the council said the count can be held down if motorists use a "sure-fire formula for minimizing holiday traffic trouble."

- The formula:
1. Hold your speed to 60 or below on the open road and obey posted speed limits.
  2. Put the time of your arrival at your destination last in importance, and your safe arrival first.
  3. Stay away from the wheel if you've been drinking.

Blasts TV

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — Police are looking for a house-breaker who appears to have a sharp dislike for television. Joe S. Noland reported that he and his family returned home from an overnight trip and found somebody had broken into their house and blasted their television set apart with a shotgun.

Killer Slain After Battle With Police

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A drunken killer was slain by police Monday after he held his elderly landlady and three other persons hostage during a crazy plot to kill a former Texas governor and U.S. senator.

Frank Windsor, 43, was machine-gunned to death inside a small frame house after his hostages plunged from windows, screaming and retching from tear gas fired into the house by a small army of police.

Ione Dickinson, 68, owner of the house, and her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Darter, were held all night at gunpoint.

Alfred Webb, 44, was forced into the house as he arrived at 6 a.m. to go to work with Darter.

Windsor shot M. G. Hassell to death as he ran from the house after he arrived to paint another house owned by Mrs. Dickinson.

Hassell's partner, Boyce Harper, ran from the house and called police.

Webb said Windsor told the hostages he hoped to lure former U.S. Senator and Texas Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to the house, where Windsor planned to shoot him for evicting Windsor from an apartment house in 1958.

O'Daniel said he never saw Windsor. He said his records show employees of an O'Daniel-owned company once evicted Windsor and his wife (since deceased) for failure to pay rent. Mrs. Dickinson was talking to the Darters Sunday night when Windsor came to her house and asked to use the telephone. Then he pulled out a gun and ordered the three to lie on the floor.

He bound the Darters with a chain, then handcuffed them.

Webb arrived the next morning, then Hassell. When Hassell fell dead in the yard, Webb and Darter were forced to drag his body to the porch and cover it with bags and newspapers.

"I shouldn't say so, but I'm glad," Mrs. Dickinson said when she learned Windsor was dead. "He deserves to be dead."

Union Carpenters Remove Picket Lines

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Union carpenters removed picket lines today and 1,650 building tradesmen returned to their jobs at the missile test center and near Patrick Air Force Base.

Several million dollars worth of construction was halted by the 10-day strike of 115 carpenters, who came to terms Monday night with their employers, the Associated General Contractors. Other union men had observed picket lines.

Missile launchings were not affected by the work stoppage which came May 15 when an old contract expired.

At one time about 5,000 men were off their jobs.

It was learned the carpenters and the contractors agreed to a 40-cent pay package in a two-year contract. The carpenters, who average $2.85 an hour, wanted a retroactive 25-cent raise in a one-year contract.

The contractors at one time offered a 35-cent raise, not retroactive, in a two-year pact.

Coed, Hit With Acid, Regains Some Vision

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — A 20-year-old coed who was threatened with blindness and disfigurement when silver nitrate was thrown into her face May 20 has regained normal vision in her left eye, her doctor says.

But the physician said Sheila Rene Nelms still sees only a little light with her right eye.

The doctor said scars on the girl's face and body are clearing up and there apparently will be no permanent disfigurement.

Tommy Ray Lester, 19, a fellow North Texas State College student who admitted throwing the caustic on the girl, is free on bond on charges of aggravated assault. Lester claimed the incident was a practical joke which backfired.

Accidents

At 7 o'clock Sunday night a 1952 Ford was extensively damaged in a one-car accident about three miles north of Sedalia on the old gravel highway just off of Highway 65. No injuries were reported.

James H. Quinlin, 24, of the 340th Supply Squadron, was the driver of the car which was headed south on Highway 65. He was going around a curve and saw the gravel road which went straight off of the highway and he tried to swerve and go down it.

As the car went onto the gravel road he lost control when the car struck some loose gravel. The car skidded and overturned on its top along the west edge of the road. The top and left side of the vehicle were damaged.

Trooper Richard Joos of the State Highway Patrol made the investigation.

Franklin Elgan Howell, 22, of 1215 South Laine, was injured in a one-car accident in the 4200 block on South Ingram about 9:10 p.m. Sunday.

According to Trooper Robert Stockdell of the State Highway Patrol, Howell was traveling south on Ingram and as he started into a curve, intended to apply his brakes and hit the accelerator instead. The car skidded 72 feet on the pavement, then 96 feet off the road and struck a pole, then skidded another 99 feet across the highway.

Howell was taken to Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance, where Dr. John Lamy rendered medical treatment. He received multiple bruises and a cerebral concussion.

The car was towed to Sedalia by the Parks Cities Service station wrecker.
